- the Author/Contributors are copyright holders of the exclusive rights to the Article and the said exclusive rights have not been delegated by the Author/Contributors to third parties in whole or in part,

have made the present License Agreement (hereinafter, the “Agreement”) as follows:

1. the Author/Contributors shall transfer to the Transferee an exclusive license for the usage of the Article, in the original version and the translated version of the Journal, in the following ways:

1.1. Translating the Article from the original language into English or Russian, respectively (hereinafter, the “Translation of the Article”).

1.2. Reproducing the Article or the Translation of the Article, that is, copying the Article, the Translation of the Article, or certain parts of these in any material form, as a certain piece of work and/or as a part of journals and/or databases, or otherwise. Electronic record of the Article or the Translation of the Article, including record into computer memory, shall be considered to be reproduction.

1.3. Distributing the Article, the Translation of the Article, or certain part of these by any sale or other disposal of copies of it as a certain piece of work and/or as a part of journals and/or databases, or otherwise.

1.4. Bringing the Article and the Translation of the Article to the public knowledge in such a way that any person can get access to the Article or the Translation of the Article in any place and at any time at one’s own discretion, including via the Internet.

1.5. Providing scientific and style editing of the Article.

2. The Transferee shall delegate the rights transferred to them by the Author/Contributors in accordance with the Agreement and necessary for publishing the Article or the Translation of the Article to the publisher of the Journal or the publisher of the translated version of the Journal, respectively (sub-licensing).
3. The Author/Contributors shall transfer to the Transferee an exclusive license for the usage of the Article all over the world, on free of charge basis for the valid period of the author rights, provided by the legislation of the Russian Federation.

4. The author rights as indicated in paragraphs 1–3 of the Agreement are transferred from the Author/Contributors to the Transferee in the case and from the moment of taking decision by the editorial board of the Journal about publishing the Article or the Translation of the Article in the original version of the Journal.

5. The Author/Contributors shall guarantee that:
   - they are copyright holders of the exclusive rights to the Article;
   - at the time of the Agreement coming into effect the Author/Contributors are not aware of any rights of third parties that can be infringed by granting the exclusive rights in accordance with the Agreement;
   - at the time of signing the Agreement the exclusive rights to the Article have neither been disposed of, nor pledged as collateral, nor delegated to third parties according to license agreements;
   - at the time of signing the Agreement the rights of the Author/Contributors have not been challenged before court or in another legal manner.

   In case of demands or claims brought to the Transferee for violation of rights of third parties in connection with the rights transferred according to the Agreement, the Transferee and the Author/Contributors shall together settle the dispute or ensure judicial protection using means provided by the Civil Code of the Russian Federation. Any expenses and losses of the Transferee caused by settling such claims or enforcement of the court decision shall be indemnified, provided that the fault of the Author/Contributors in infringement of rights of third parties and/or violation of legislation of the Russian Federation is proved.

6. Before the Article has actually been published, the Author/Contributors shall be entitled to abandon the decision, which has been taken previously, regarding publishing the Article (the right of withdrawal). The Transferee has the right to demand indemnification from the Author/Contributors against damages caused by such a decision.

7. The Author/Contributors have a right to use freely the Article/Translation of the Article for personal, information, research, academic, or cultural purposes in accordance with legislation of the Russian Federation, without requesting permission from the Transferee. This usage includes:
   - using print and electronic preprints of the unpublished manuscript of the Article accepted by the Transferee for publishing in the Journal. In distributing these preprints the Author/Contributors shall insert the following warning: “This is a preprint of the Article accepted for publication in (the name and volume of the Journal, the year of publication). All distribution rights are owned by (the name of the publisher of the Journal)”;
   - making photocopies on free of charge basis or handing over a copy of the printed Article or the Translation of the Article, in whole or in part, for personal or professional usage, for promotion of scientific or academic research or for information purposes of their employer;
   - using certain materials (pictures, tables, or text extracts) from the published Article/Translation of the Article for their inclusion into another piece of work, article, monograph, or course pack, provided a reference is made as to the publication details of the Article/Translation of the Article.

8. In preparation of the Article/Translation of the Article for publication the Author/Contributors shall:
- perform proofreading of the Article/Translation of the Article within the time defined by the Transferee in accordance with the work schedule established by the editor of the Journal or the editor of the translated version of the Journal;
- introduce only the minimum corrections into the galley proof of the Article/Translation of the Article that are necessary to correct errors in the original text of the Article and/or to reflect factual or conjunctural updates.

9. Peer review of the Article or the Translation of the Article, scientific and technical editing of the text, production and/or processing of the illustrative material, and production of camera-ready copy of the Article/Translation of the Article are carried out by the editorial board, the publisher of the Journal, or the publisher of the translated version of the Journal, respectively.

10. The Transferee shall ensure that the galley proofs of the Article/Translation of the Article be submitted to the Author/Contributors and that the reasonable corrections approved by the Author/Contributors be introduced in the text before publishing.

11. By signing the Agreement the Author/Contributors give their consent to processing their personal data by the Transferee and/or the publisher of the Journal in accordance with legislation of the Russian Federation.

12. Any other issues that have not been regulated directly in the present Agreement shall be settled by the Parties according to the current legislation of the Russian Federation.

13. The present Agreement shall be an agreement of adhesion (offer) (Article 428 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation), the terms of which shall be determined by the Transferee, and such agreement can be signed by another party only in a way of adhesion to the present Agreement in general. Sending the manuscript of the Article by the Author/Contributors for publishing in the Journal shall be considered to be an acceptance, that is, a consent of the Author/Contributors to publishing the Article in accordance with the terms of the Agreement.

14. The Parties have agreed, that according to Article 160 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, in exclusive events when it is complicated to obtain the Author’s (Contributors’) signature, the reproduction of the text of the present Agreement and signatures of the Parties on the present Agreement or other documents connected with its conclusion with the use of means of mechanical, electronic or other forms of copying of the personal handwritten signature and text of the Agreement shall be allowed and recognized. The reproduced text and signature of a Party shall be of the same force as the original signature of the Party or the original document.
